FIFTH ANNUAL SPARTAN DAILY TOY DRIVE BEGINS THIS WEEK

Musical By YWCA Given Tonight At 7:30

An Evening Musicales sponsored by the Music Arts committee of the YWCA will be presented this evening at 7:30 in the Little Theater. The program is made up entirely of student talent.

The program is as follows: Quartet XV Op. 64 No. 5 including Allegro moderato, Adagio Contabile, and Menuetto, by Haydn, played by a string quartet made up of Margaret Gullet and Doris Gunderson, violins; Dennis Barrett, viola; and Patricia Young, cello.

Vocal solos by Henrietta Harris, contralto, accompanied by John Andrews, E. Dove T-Aggiri by Gesti, Non Piu D'Amore by Falconieri, Ein Schwan by Grieg, and Eros by Grieg.

A flute duet, Three Grand Duos Op. 39 by Kuhlau, by Frank Gettner and Harrill Johnson.

More vocal solos by Miss Harris include E'en As A Lovely Flower by Bridges, The Grocer's Boy by Melaby and two spirituals, Is Massa Goin' to Sell Us Tomorrow? and When I Get to Heav'n.

A second string quartet consisting of Gerald Slavich and Paul Lanini, violins; Laurel Kline, viola; and Virginia Elvidge, cello, will play Eine Kleine Nachtmusik by Mozart.

No admission fee will be charged for this musicale and everyone is cordially invited to attend, according to Mary Lou Siegfried, chairman of Music Arts.

DIRECTOR FOR SHOW SOUGHT

The Spartan Revelries student director board asks all students interested in directing the annual spring quarter show to put applications in the co-op box by noon tomorrow in care of the student council.

In the applications, students should list qualifications, previous experience in producing similar shows, and outline the type of show which they would like to produce, council members said.

Interviews of those students applying for the directorship will be held at three o'clock tomorrow in the student body president's office in the Student Union.

TEST RESULTS

Results of the tuberculosis tests given in the Health office yesterday noon will be available tomorrow, according to Miss Margaret Twombly.

Needy Benefit

By HARRY GRAHAM

"Now, George, you be a good boy and eat your spinach or Santa Claus won't visit you this Christmas..." "Aw, ma, be yer age! You knows dere ain't no Santy Claws!"

Well, maybe George has got it right—there ain't no Santy Claws. At least, there won't be for a lot of little "Georges" in this community this Christmas unless the students, faculty, and organizations of San Jose State college pitch in and do a little pluggin' on the side for the bewhiskered gent.

The Spartan Daily makes that possible by sponsoring their fifth annual Toy Pile, and if you want to do your part, the staff invites you to contribute a toy to the stack in the Publications office.

Size, age, price, or previous condition of servitude of the toy doesn't matter, just as long as it is contributed in the friendly spirit that makes Christmas worth waiting 364 days for.

Goudron Plays For Final Student Hop

Gene Goudron and his band will be featured at the final student body hop of the quarter Friday night in the Men's gym, according to Dave Atkinson, chairman of the affair.

Honoring the "undisputed champions", the local football team, the dance will follow the Drake-San Jose State grid classic which will be held Thursday evening in the Spartan Stadium.

Students will be admitted free on presentation of student body cards while outsiders will be charged the usual 25 cents. No stags will be allowed. Social Affairs Chairman Selma Kann warns that the committee is aiding the student council to stop the loaning of student body cards.

Upper Class Confab

Joint Junior-Senior Mixer In Men's Gymnasium Tonight

Traditional rivalry and social activity between upperclassmen begins tonight at seven o'clock when the third- and fourth-year men assemble for the annual joint Junior-Senior Mixer in the Men's gym.

Evening activities are scheduled as follows:

First on the program will be a basketball game between the two classes. Junior team includes Milt Pyle, Morris Buckingham, Hal Cur-ruth, Dick Urhammer, Frank Arnerich, Justin Lundquist, Frank Lovo, Stan Murdock, Stu Willington, Warner Keeley, and Clarence Russo.

Dancing to the music of Johnny Cooper and his seven-piece orchestra will follow the game.

Freshmen and sophomores are warned to stay away from the gymnasium under penalty of being "clipped", announces Ham Hodgson, senior president.

Entrance regulations are that the seniors use the front door and the juniors use the back door. Ten cents will be charged as admission.

Come Join The Band For 'Spartan Varsity Day' Procession

Graduating Gridders Honored

By MARY TRAUB

Strike up the band!

Casting away for an hour all thought of classes, lectures, books, and ex's, enthusiastic students and faculty will join a host of football-minded San Jose citizens in celebrating 'Spartan Varsity Day' today.

CLASSES OUT FOR MEETINGS AT 10:00 TODAY

UPPERCLASSMEN

Today at ten o'clock all upper classmen will meet in the Little Theater for forty minutes of entertainment which will be provided by both classes.

There will be no pins for the junior class as they will arrive tomorrow afternoon, reports Frank Bonanno, chairman of the "Elegant Eight". Deadline for the second order is December 5th.

Entertainment for the meeting includes six student acts, and addresses of welcome from both advisers.

Following the meeting at eleven o'clock will be the parade.

FROSH-SOPH

All freshmen will convene in the Morris Dailey auditorium, and the sophomore class will meet in the large science lecture room, 112, during the ten o'clock session.

Election of officers for the sophomores will be held at this meeting as a large turnout is expected, and a report on the Soph Hop will be given, announces Dave Atkinson, president.

Both classes will discuss plans for the Frosh-Soph Mixer to be held sometime in January.

U. C. Prof Gives Lecture Tonight In Room S210

An illustrated lecture on mosquitoes and malaria in California will be given tonight at 7:30 in room S210 by Mr. Thomas Aitken, University of California entomologist.

The lecture is sponsored by the Entomology club and is open to the public, states Miss Ernestine Smith, club president.

Mr. Aitken is a specialist in medical entomology and has been working on a federal and state survey of mosquitoes and mosquito-borne diseases in California.

"This is one of the most important surveys taken in California," states Dr. Carl D. Duncan, botany professor.

On a check made on Dust Bowl refugees it was found that they were contributing to an increase in variety and incidence of mosquito-borne diseases.

Announced in the form of a resolution passed by the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Supervisors, and the City Council, the affair, a prelude to the Drake-San Jose game Thursday night in Spartan Stadium will honor Sparta's untied, undefeated football team and its coaches, "Dud" DeGroot and "Pop" Warner. Specially recognized will be 17 graduating seniors.

Responding to a call issued by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie to leave "not a parked car on the campus", students will beg, borrow, or steal their way into automobiles in order to participate in the parade which will form on San Carlos street opposite the Men's gymnasium at 11:00 a.m. immediately following all-class meetings. All rooms will be closed during the event.

BAND LEADS

Leading the first division of the joint college-civic procession will be the San Jose State college 116-piece band under the direction of Thomas Eagan. The Roosevelt junior high school band will lead the second section. Walter Bachrodt, city superintendent of schools, will serve as grand marshal.

UNIQUE FEATURE

Then will follow the most unique feature of the parade, a series of 13 automobiles, each

DRAKE TICKET DEADLINE THURSDAY

Tickets for the San Jose State-Drake football game will go off sale at noon Thursday, November 30, announced the controller's office yesterday.

Faculty as well as students will be able to secure duats for the game at the reduced price of 75 cents, providing that they are purchased before the deadline, stated the controller's office. If tickets are not secured before this time, all will have to pay the regular admission prices ranging from $1.10 to $1.65, the office also pointed out.

The student rooting section for the State supporters is between the twenty- and forty-five yard lines, sections K and L, on the east side of the stadium.

The proceeds from this football classic will be used to establish a fund to found a "Boys' Town", modeled after the one established in Nebraska by Father Flanagan.

A Welcome For Drake . . .

When San Jose turns out today to honor our great Spartan football team, how about giving a thought to the invading Drake University Bulldogs?

Far from the welcome support of their home-town rooters, the Drake gridders will arrive in the midst of a town of rabid Spartan supporters, fans who root for the San Jose State team, only undefeated eleven in the west.

It would be ideal if today's parade in honor of San Jose's great squad could also serve as a welcoming committee for the invading Drake Bulldogs. This situation is impossible however, due to the fact that the mid-westerners will not arrive in San Jose until Thursday.

If Drake's schedule does not allow them to arrive here in time for our celebration today, the next best thing is to stage a special affair for the Bulldogs Thursday. Recall the warm feeling aroused by the reception at Stockton when San Jose invaded this fall. It adds a lot when a welcome is forthcoming upon arrival in a strange town.

At the same time, Spartan rooters might do well to remember that Thursday's contest marks the final local appearance for the State squad this season and for some seventeen seniors for good. The price of admission isn't prohibitive, the seats are good and those who attend will see what we consider to be the best college team on the coast.

March And Honor The Team . . .

Today honor and recognition come to the Spartan grid machine which has built up the enviable score of 312 points; the highest scoring team in the nation.

Special recognition will be given to those seventeen members of the present team who will be unable to be with the college next year because of graduation. It will be our loss, but we can only hope that the members of next year's team will use these men as an example to set themselves to.

The significance of such honor is shown today when all 11 o'clock classes will be omitted and Spartan rooters meet at the Men's gym and show their enthusiasm and appreciation with a parade through the downtown streets of San Jose.

With such a demonstration of recognition unique in the history of the college, why not be one of those to participate in such an event. Attend your class meeting at 10 o'clock and then join the parade on San Carlos street. Let's not be the ones to sit on the curbstone and watch the parade, let's BE the parade.

—Maynard.

As I See It

By EUGENE HARVIE

Yesterday the Spartan Daily began its fifth annual Toy Pile drive.

This drive for toys for the past five years has been one of the most successful ventures on the campus and has brought happiness to many a needy child of this community. It is through things of this kind that San Jose State college is able to prove its worth to the local townspeople.

As a state-owned institution, supported by local tax money, this college can show its appreciation in a way the business men and townspeople can understand—that is—by supporting a drive to assure San Jose's underprivileged children a Christmas not altogether devoid of Christmas cheer.

The San Jose Fire department in conjunction with the Spartan Daily and college students will this year make it their responsibility to see that Christmas means toys and fun for San Jose's needy.

A worthy cause is worth supporting; bring a toy into the Spartan Daily office even though it may be damaged. It will make some child happy.

Thinking It Over

By GARDNER WATERS

The other day we picked up a young hitchhiker on his way into town. Hardly was he in the car when he started what was obviously a well-rehearsed and frequently-used line of patter to mooch a dime for a show.

The fellow was from a family on relief and a paunchy old-time Republican would probably say—Well, what do you expect? Those persons are shiftless and always looking for something for nothing or they wouldn't be on relief.

A more liberal-minded individual might retort—But not all persons on relief are like that. He was an exception rather than the rule.

Both the Republican and the more liberal-minded individual are partly right, but both miss the really fundamental point.

It can hardly be denied that a person's character does suffer after he has been on relief for a long period of time. But is he to blame for that? Character is much more dependent on environment than we are inclined to believe.

While it is true that some outstanding individuals have risen from a depressing environment and attained unusual success, must we insist that all individuals possess this extraordinary capacity to overcome environment merely to reach a bare standard of living?

So rather than to lay the entire blame on the individual who becomes less responsible after a period on relief, it would seem that society as a whole is partly to blame. And since we each are members of society, we each are partly to blame.

Just Among Ourselves

By DR. T. W. MacQUARRIE

That was one grand, sweet game. It delighted all of us; it surprised us. Many thanks and congratulations total concerned—players and coaches.

This seems to be San Jose State's greatest year—largest population, most work, best spirit, wonderful team. The best part of it is, the quality seems to be good. With all the fun, we are doing some work; we are giving full return to the state for the money expended.

Crowded, yes, but we would rather be crowded than rattling around. We need more buildings. We are just nothing compared with most of the public colleges of our size, but we have good equipment and a good faculty and we do get results.

Housing conditions are bad, but improving. We may be able to develop cooperatives to such an extent that they will solve our problem. I doubt if large dormitories are a possibility.

What we need more than anything right now is a Health building. We are so crowded in our Health offices and the Health Cottage that we are limiting our services. I think we do a grand job helping more than 150 students every day. I doubt if the state will ever put up a building for us. If our team continues to improve they might be able to finance a Health building some day, who knows?

Of course you're going to the parade. If you haven't a car, invite yourself into some other fellow's car. There shouldn't be a parked car around this square at 11:30 today. Let's make it a turnout; it doesn't happen often; it will do us all good.

FAT IN THE FIRE

By JIM BAILEY

In three weeks they are going to hand me a diploma inscribed with bold letters, "This is to certify that JAMES BAILEY has somehow managed to stick around here for four years and can now be called an A.B., or anything else for that matter, and is hereby entitled to represent this college among the unemployed of the world. Anything he says or does which somehow resembles sanity is purely coincidental."

Congratulatory shakes of the hand will follow, and all my old instructors will make it quite evident my case is hopeless. The situation is so bad that already I have had several persons advise me to become a college instructor. After all, a man has to eat!

Actually it is a shame that I must graduate. Here I have spent sixteen or seventeen years of my life becoming a college senior, and now that I have attained my goal they give me a slip of paper, and other hints, telling me to get out!

As I look back over these past four years I feel like an automobile. Nine dollars I have been paying on myself each quarter. In three weeks I will belong to me!

Oh well, even though the college failed to teach me anything, at least they have left my ignorance untarnished. There is nothing like an untarnished ignorance. It makes it easier to talk to the women (heh, heh!)

All that I am today I owe to Dr. Poytress. In four years I was in three of his classes, and they left me in a confused, blissful state of mind, with a peculiar, dogged kind of persistence which has at least kept food in my mouth!

The last regular meeting of the Rainbow club will be held today at 12:30 in the H. E. building, room 1. Election of officers being the main business of the meeting. Dues must be paid in order to vote. (See June Buhl). —E. Riley, pres.

The YM-YW Asilomar planning committee will meet at 12:00 sharp today in the 'Y' room. This will be a half-hour meeting with some very important business to discuss. We only have three weeks left in which to work. All members please be present. —Co-chairmen, Virginia Woodham, Lester Ruddell.

All Spartan Knights and squires please meet me in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium after class meetings. We are going to assist with the parade formation. —"Duke" Silva.

SPARTAN DAILY, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1939

Beef And Brawn, Drake Style

Above is Allan Dillon, 215-pound left tackle from Drake University. A consistent starter this season for the middlewestern Bulldogs, Dillon is also conference shot put champ and ranking discus thrower. Drake University meets the undefeated, untied Spartans under the lights of Spartan Stadium Thursday night in a charity game sponsored by the San Jose Elks.

DRAKE SEEKS WIN OVER SPARTANS; REGINATO RETURNS TO LINEUP

Out of Des Moines, Iowa, comes a determined band of "Bulldogs" bent on one thing. That of halting the march of the undefeated, untied San Jose State college football eleven.

GOOD RECORD

The Drake team will arrive in San Jose on Wednesday in preparation for their Elk's Day Charity game with the Spartans, the possessors of a very impressive record.

They have played nine games this season, winning five, and losing four. They hold wins over Kansas, Iowa State, and St. Louis. They lost last week to the powerful Tulsa University eleven, 14 to 6, before the watchful eyes of Dud DeGroot.

FAST BACKFIELD

Boasting of a lightning fast backfield, whose main offensive trust lies in its speed and deception, the Bulldogs will be ready to match speed for speed with the Spartans. In their backfield they have four ball-toting backs in Will Harvey, pint sized half back, Bud Stipe, fullback, Glen Peterson, the blocking quarterback, and Thell Fisher.

Badmintoners Must Arrange New Dates

Since the main gym is now in use during the noon hour, new appointments must be made for the rest of the intramural badminton tourney, according to Coach Glenn Hartman.

Participants are advised to see their opponents to arrange for playing dates. These dates and times should be reported to Hartman, unless his injury responds to treatment. Other than this one casualty the Spartans will be at full strength for the Drake eleven.

Dud DeGroot having returned yesterday from scouting Drake against Tulsa on Saturday, sent his regulars against Drake plays yesterday to familiarize them with the type of offense used by the Bulldogs.

Reginato Returns

On the local war grounds San Jose went back to work this week, and were cheered by the return of Joe Reginato to the Spartan fold. Joe has been out of uniform since the Willamette game with an injured leg.

Still absent from practice with a leg injury is Dick Hubbell, who may be out of the Drake game en-

California's Upset At Hands Of Stanford Gives San Jose Title

San Jose State's soccer team is the newly-crowned champion of the Northern California Intercollegiate Conference for the 1939 season!

The Spartans lost to California last Wednesday in what was supposed to be the "championship" game of the conference. It was the second loss of the season for the locals.

NOSED OUT

California had an undefeated season—until Saturday morning. But California took second place in the conference.

The Bears rested easily after the Spartan contest (except for several bruises) and thought the conference title was theirs for the fifth consecutive year. They had only one game to go and that was the Stanford team that, like its football brethren, was enduring its worst season in a good many years.

So lowly Stanford rose up and slapped the mighty Bear right out of the conference championship by winning 2-1 and the Spartans took over top spot in the league.

The conference rules give one point for a win, none for a tie, and minus one for a defeat. San Jose won eleven, lost two and tied one for a total of nine points. Cal won nine, tied and lost one for a total of eight points. Result—championship of Northern California Intercollegiate conference goes to San Jose State.

SPARTANS BEST

The Spartans of 1939 have been called the best team in State history and it is only proper that the team was luckily tied by California in the first game, and lost the second game 2-1 after a "dogfight" in which anything went, should win the conference title.

Led by Captain Ham Hodgson, the Spartan kickers ran up a string of eleven straight victories before the California defeat, and then toured southern California, defeating UCLA and tying Los Angeles City college which holds the championship in that area.

The entire team deserves credit, but an abundance should go to Goalie Leroy Hill who made spectacular stops of enemy thrusts in every game and to the high scoring front line.

Still Undefeated

Only undefeated Spartan of five that left to compete in Japan with the boxing champions there is Con Lacy, above. The squad has participated in three meets in the land of the cherry blossoms so far.

'ZIM' SCORES; TOTAL SOARS

Two touchdowns and a conversion against Fresno last week, sent Leroy Zimmerman's point total up to 53 for the current grid season.

San Jose's lanky candidate for all-American fullback honors now has eight touchdowns and five extra points. Trailing Zimmerman with seven touchdowns for 42 points is Dick Hubbell, third-string fullback.

Guard Kenny Cook's field goal and extra point after touchdown against Fresno raised his total up to 29 points. Cook has a total of six "three pointers" and 11 conversions.

Individual scoring, including 12 games of San Jose's schedule.

First Symphony Of Season December 12

San Jose State's Symphony orchestra of over 100 pieces will present its first concert of the season on the evening of December 12 in the Morris Dailey auditorium, announces Mr. Adolph Otterstein, conductor and head of the Music department.

An invitation to a national conference in Los Angeles, substantiating opinions that the symphony is one of the finest in California, has been extended to the orchestra by the National Music Educators. San Jose's is the only symphony on the west coast asked to play, according to Mr. Otterstein.

ORIGINAL NUMBER

Scherzo, a selection written by Neil Daniels, Santa Rosa junior college faculty member, will be played for the first time at the concert. Mr. Daniels has written a number for the Brass Choir also, which was introduced by them at the Exposition.

OUTSIDERS INVITED

Music teachers and students of San Jose and vicinity are invited as well as members of the college, according to Mr. Otterstein. The group will play five numbers, and the program is scheduled for approximately one and a half hours.

Miss Frances Robinson, member of the San Jose music faculty, will be featured soloist, playing a Violin Concerto by Brahms.

PLANS START FOR NEW CO-OP HOUSE

A meeting of men students interested in a new cooperative house for next quarter will be held at 12:30 Thursday in room 119.

At a previous meeting it was found that there was sufficient interest to start the house next quarter. It is hoped that plans for the project will be completed at this meeting, says Mr. T. Erwin Blesh, faculty committee chairman.

Room and board at a maximum expense of $20 per month is anticipated, states Mr. Blesh. All students interested in this project are urged to attend the meeting. If this is impossible, they may sign their names to a list in Dean Pitman's office.

Turkey Banquet Sponsored By YM-YW Groups Tomorrow Night

An Association Supper, featuring turkey, sponsored by the YM-YMCA, will be held tomorrow evening at 5:30 in the City YMCA to promote student interest in the Asilomar Conference, according to the 'Y' presidents.

Speaker of the evening will be Dr. Elliot Van N. Dohler, while student speakers will be Virginia Woodham, Dorothy Baldwin, Frank Gettinger and Lester Ruddell.

According to Clare Nichols, publicity chairman, plans to make San Jose State college's delegation at the Asilomar Inter-Collegiate Conference bigger than ever this year are now getting underway.

CONFERENCE FEATURES

The Asilomar Conference which is being held from December 28 to January 2, is featuring co-operative living for the delegates. Each person will help with the making of beds and serving of meals and other simple tasks. This feature will reduce living expenses for students during the conference.

Other features of the conference will include speeches and round table discussions on topics pertaining to the theme of the gathering which is "Living the Christian Faith". Afternoons will be devoted to hiking, tennis, ping pong, and other amusements.

The speaking members of the cast terminated their Thanksgiving holidays when they met Sunday for an extensive rehearsal.

The Glee club, supervised by Miss Alma Williams, and the Verse Speaking Choir, under the direction of Miss Douglas, are working on several selections from the scriptures chanted by the choir.

A novel feature of the program will be the joining of the audience with the Glee club and cast in yuletide songs.

Admission will be free. The production will be given December 7 and 8 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

SAN JOSE STATE REPUBLICANS ELECT OFFICERS

George Place was elected president of the San Jose State chapter of the Young Republicans of California at a meeting last Friday night at the Hotel De Anza. Other officers are: Dan Melton, vice-president; Charlene Winn, executive secretary; Don Anderson, secretary; Bob Payne, treasurer; Dick Ofsstad, publicity director; Len Dysinger, sergeant-at-arms.

The next GOP meeting will be on December 5 at the De Anza hotel, when Phil Bancroft, state Republican leader, will speak. All students are invited.
